My vision and mission

I am a dedicated and accomplished Gynaecologic Oncologist who is driven by a profound passion for providing the best possible care to women battling cancers of the reproductive organs. Committed to delivering holistic, patient-centred treatment approaches that prioritize both physical and emotional well-being, I am equipped with a comprehensive formal educational training in Gynaecological Oncology as a DrNB student at Tata Medical Center, Kolkata, India. I consolidated my knowledge and expertise working as a Clinical Associate in the same department during the past one year.

I am focused on leveraging advanced surgical techniques, including laparoscopy and robotics, to optimize patient outcomes and minimize post-operative morbidity. I strongly advocate for multidisciplinary collaboration, fostering cohesive teams of other medical professionals from radiation oncology, medical oncology, onco-pathology, radiology, and palliative care to ensure comprehensive and personalized treatment plans for each individual patient. I am devoted to nurturing an environment of empathy, compassion and open communication, empowering patients to actively participate in their care journey.

Driven by a vision not only to treat the present ailment but also to contribute to the advancement of knowledge in gynaecologic oncology through rigorous audit and research endeavours. By conducting clinical audits, I aim to evaluate the effectiveness of current treatment modalities, identify areas for improvement, and enhance patient care pathways. I strongly advocate for continuous professional development, staying abreast of the latest advancements in gynaecologic oncology through active participation in conferences, workshops, and continuing medical education programs. My openness to actively seeking opportunities to collaborate with national and international experts to exchange knowledge, share standards in best practices will help me and the institution to drive collective progress in the field.

Committed to upholding the highest ethical standards and professional integrity in all aspects of clinical practice, research, and academic pursuits is the foundation of my success so far and I vow to continue my practice throughout my professional career. Inspired by the resilience and strength of my patients, I am continuously motivated to strive for excellence and push the boundaries of my practice to improve outcomes and enhance quality of life of the women I treat. Ultimately, driven by a steadfast commitment to making a meaningful and lasting impact on the lives of women affected by gynaecological cancers, I offer my services to an institution that is congruent with my vision and mission.
